

JGSGB Genealogy Course at Hebrew College Foundations of Jewish Genealogical Research

"Only a genealogist regards a step backwards as progress."

"My uncle was born in Austria, married in Poland, and died in Russia without ever leaving town!"

Mondays 7–9 pm, starting January 30, 2012

For a fifth year, the Jewish Genealogical Society of Greater Boston (JGSGB) and Hebrew College will be offering the award-winning "Foundations of Jewish Genealogical Research," an intensive 8-session course to provide serious adult students with the tools to research their family origins.

In August 2009, the JGSGB received the Outstanding Program Award from the International Association of Jewish Genealogical Societies for creating and teaching this comprehensive course that "moves students from the basics to finding ancestral records in Europe."

The course will cover:

- Getting Started on Family History Research: Basic Steps, Strategy, and Skills
- Technical Tools and Online Resources for Genealogy
- History of Jewish Migration, the Diaspora, and Changing National Borders
- Identifying Your Immigrant Ancestors: Methods and Resources for Researching Family Members in the US
- Finding Your Ancestors in European Records and Learning about Their Lives
- Identifying Holocaust Victims and Survivors
- Finding Family Members Living in Israel
- Social Media for the Jewish Genealogist
- Using Your Research: Making Connections and Sharing Your Findings

There will be individual help time and a hands-on introduction to Internet research.

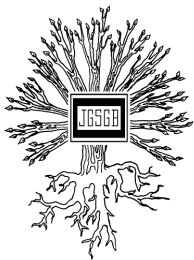

Registration is limited to 24 students. Tuition is $250 payable to Hebrew College.

Students are expected to have basic computer skills.

Register at www.hebrewcollege.edu/events

For more information, go to www.course.jsgsb.org or contact course@jsgsb.org

The JGSGB is dedicated to helping people discover and research their Jewish family history. We offer monthly education programs and a comprehensive beginners' course, maintain an extensive collection of research materials, and publish the award-winning journal Mass-Pocha.

JEWISH GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF GREATER BOSTON

JGSGB Genealogy Course at Hebrew College Foundations of Jewish Genealogical Research

"Only a genealogist regards a step backwards as progress."

"My uncle was born in Austria, married in Poland, and died in Russia without ever leaving town!"

Mondays 7–9 pm, starting January 30, 2012

For a fifth year, the Jewish Genealogical Society of Greater Boston (JGSGB) and Hebrew College will be offering the award-winning "Foundations of Jewish Genealogical Research," an intensive 8-session course to provide serious adult students with the tools to research their family origins.

In August 2009, the JGSGB received the Outstanding Program Award from the International Association of Jewish Genealogical Societies for creating and teaching this comprehensive course that "moves students from the basics to finding ancestral records in Europe."

The course will cover:

- Getting Started on Family History Research: Basic Steps, Strategy, and Skills
- Technical Tools and Online Resources for Genealogy
- History of Jewish Migration, the Diaspora, and Changing National Borders
- Identifying Your Immigrant Ancestors: Methods and Resources for Researching Family Members in the US
- Finding Your Ancestors in European Records and Learning about Their Lives
- Identifying Holocaust Victims and Survivors
- Finding Family Members Living in Israel
- Social Media for the Jewish Genealogist
- Using Your Research: Making Connections and Sharing Your Findings

There will be individual help time and a hands-on introduction to Internet research.

Registration is limited to 24 students. Tuition is $250 payable to Hebrew College.

Students are expected to have basic computer skills.

Register at www.hebrewcollege.edu/events

For more information, go to www.course.jgs gb.org or contact course@jgs gb.org

The JGSGB is dedicated to helping people discover and research their Jewish family history. We offer monthly education programs and a comprehensive beginners' course, maintain an extensive collection of research materials, and publish the award-winning journal Mass-Pocha.